

Amendments to the Specification

Page 42, beginning with line 2, amend the abstract as follows.

The lending reservation system ~~comprises~~ includes a client ~~terminals~~ terminal and a ~~digital camera~~ server terminal connected to LAN. ~~A digital camera can be connected to or disconnected from the~~ The server terminal is configured to be connected to an information device. A user inputs information required to reserve the digital camera into any one of the ~~client terminals. The client terminal transmits this~~ is configured to transmit to the server terminal via the network information related to the server terminal through LAN reservation of the information device. The server terminal decides is configured to receive from the client terminal the information related to the reservation to determine whether [[a]] the reservation can be made is permitted. If the reservation can be made, the The server terminal registers is configured to register the reservation and ~~informs~~ to inform the client terminal that the reservation is has been made. The client terminal includes an image transmission designating unit configured to transmit an input image data from the information device.